

Mission Statement

The mission of the Paediatric Study Group of the Australia and New Zealand Intensive Care Society is to promote and promulgate excellence in Paediatric Intensive Care Medicine through collaborative intensive care research, focussing on improving patient outcomes, and to collect and analyse high quality paediatric intensive care data in a central registry.

Vision

- To facilitate, design and to conduct high quality, investigator-initiated multi-centre observational studies, clinical trials and research programmes in paediatric intensive care in Australia and New Zealand.
- To advance the education and understanding of research methodology and critical analysis.

Core Values

- Innovation, creativity and intellectual development.
- Respectful relationships within the group, the paediatric intensive care community and collaborators.
- Integrity, responsibility and accountability to ourselves, our patients and community.

Strategy

- To develop programmes of research directed at patient outcomes expressed as epidemiological and large-scale multicentre studies.
- To validate questions posed by emerging and established research.
- To develop longitudinal programmes examining translation of research into clinical practice.
- To develop and enhance education, development and training of clinical researchers.
